GRAND OPERA-HOUSE-"THE WHITE SLAVE." "The White Slave." which has been seen here several times in the past, was presented at the Grand Opera-house last night, a fair-sized audience being present. It is the most successful, inancially, of the productions of the late Bartley Campbell, and possesses all the elements of a popular success. The company presenting it is nferior to those of former seasons, and the play s therefore seen at something of a disadvantage; but it was well received and evidently pleased the audience. Miss Jennie Karsner, as Liza, Miss Carroll, as Nance, and Charles White, is Job, are the best members of the company. "The White Slave" holds, with the usual perormances, for the remainder of the week.

"Muldoon's Picnic" is making the frequenters of the Park laugh, and it will be repeated at with performances to-day and to-morrow. Prof. Bartholomew's Equine Paradox, the nost wonderful collection of trained horses in exhibition, will be at English's every night sext week, and Wednesday and Saturday matnees, at reduced prices. There are twenty-four vorses in all, and they do almost everything but alk. These performances are unique and enteraining.

A Very Different Case.

The Sentinel yesterday, in trying to save the rustees and superintendent of the Insane Hosatal from the crushing force of the Kyte affi-'avit in regard to the loan made John E. Jullivan out of the hospital's contingent and, brought Treasurer of State Lemcke into he article. This was done through Dr. Harrion, who stated that this officer had also loaned Sullivan and W. G. Wasson money. "On account of the tailure of the Legislature," said Mr. he benevolent institutions, the board of State officers, under the statutes, continues from month o month the allowances for the intitutions. But they cannot exceed more than one-twelfth of the old appropriation for each institution. At ome seasons of the year the exsence the trustees pay out proportionatel o each claimant, and allow none to go unpaid sullivan and Wasson, being in need of money. he order Philip M. Gapen, treasurer of the Insane Hospital trustees, always wrote in indersement to the effect that the money was to be taken out of that due them on the sext monthly settlement. I never charged Sullivan or Wasson a cent of interest; I let them ave the money solely as an accommodation."

The wheels passed directly across the hips, almost cutting the body in two. He was taken to his home, where Dr. Cunningham attended him and pronounced the injuries fatal. The boy, when the accident occurred, was running across the street while playing with other boys. the car. Alice May Quinn's Lecture. Alice May Quinn McMullen, of Chicago, lectured at Pfaffin's Hall last night on the subject of "Ireland and America." There were but few present, owing to the fact that many went away after learning that an admission fee would be charged. The speaker dealt principally upon the condition of Ireland and the relation of America to that country. America had been, she claimed, established as an asylum for the oppressed, and the Irish should vote for the betterment of their condition in this country. She was in favor of prohibition and woman's suf-frage, and thought that a drunken man should not be allowed to vote, masmuch as intelligent women are deprived of that privilege.

THE MONON'S RIGHT OF WAY.

A Telegram from the Company and the Protest to Be Circulated by Citizens.

There were quite a number of citizens present at the meeting of the Council committee on railroads yesterday afternoon, ready to protest against the recommendation for the passage of the ordinance giving the Monon Railway Company the right to come into the city by the C., I., St. L. & C. route. The citizens' committee appointed at Wednesday night's meeting to confer with the railroad committee reported that is had been over the routes proposed in Ordinances 45 and 46, and was confirmed in the belief that neither ordinance should be passed. Before the railroad committee had taken any steps the following telegram was received from John B. Carson, of Chicago, vice-president and general manager of the Monon road: are not committed to the Fall creek or any other particular route. What we want and ask is an independent entrance to the city of Indianapolis, by some route, and the friendly encouragement of citizens in securing it. We will gladly listen to any suggestions they have to offer. The report that we were being used by the Belt Railway Company to complete its circle around the north side of the city is absurd. We have never said a word to the Belt people, or they to us." The telegram also states, concerning Ordinance 45, that it only contemplates a connection with the Belt road. The telegram closed by requesting the committee to postpone action until Mr. Morrison, attorney for the road, could return from adjourned until to-day, at 2 o'clock. The citizens' committee had another conference, and prepared the following remonstrance, to be circulated

To the Honorable, the Mayor, the Common Council and Board of Aldermen of the City of Indianapolis: Your petitioners, who are all either tax-payers in, or citizens of the city of Indianapolis, would respectfully remonstrate against the passage of the pending ordinances granting to the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railroad Company the right to cross the streets in the city necessary to enable it to reach the Union Station by a line of track running parallel or near to the tracks of the C., L., St. L. & C. Railway Company, and against the passage of any similar ordinance tending to give them any such right; and in support of such remonstrance they beg to call your attention to the consequences that will result therefrom and more particularly the following:

1. Such ordinances, if passed, would cut off and destroy the only means of ingress to and egress from the city that now remains without the crossing of railroad tracks.

2. The location of the railroad would render highly inconvenient, if not dangerous, all access from the city to Crown Hill Cemetery.

3. That the present location of the road or its location upon a line parallel with the line of the Lake Erie & Western Railroad Company would give a shorter and better route to the Union Station, and would inconvenience no portion of the citizens of the city and injuriously affect no property interests in the In view of the objections to the road coming in along the Fall creek and C., L, St. L. & C. route, the Council will likely refuse to pass Or-dinance 46. It is the opinion of some councilmen, however, that the citizens' objection to the other ordinance, giving the road permission to cross two streets so as to connect with the Belt, is without any merit. That ordinance would bring the road down to the city limits, and it will have a better opportunity to get in by the Lake Erie & Western route. The citizens' committee requests all persons who oppose the road coming in along the Fall creek route to cut the above petition out and circulate it for signers, the petitions to be returned to Claypool & Ketcham, M. J. Osgood, No. 317 Massachusetts avenue, or Gordon, Kurtz & Co., South Me-

CULLINGS FROM THE COURTS.

Strong Probability of Albert Eaton Being Acquitted by the Grand Jury.

Albert Eaton, charged by Mrs. Johnson with killing Thomas Conaughton two years ago, will be set at liberty by the grand jury. The report on his case, however, will not be made until next Thursday, the last day of the term. The whole charge against him, if report be true, has vanished into thin air. Mrs. Johnson, who swore out the warrant for his arrest, and was to be the prosecuting witness, cannot be found by the sheriff's deputies, and the supposition is she has left the city to avoid appearing as a witness in the case. As she is the only person who has offered to give any testimony against Eaton, the grand jury, of course, can prefer no charge against the young man. Even if she should appear and repeat her story before the jury there are two witnesses who will testify that another did the killing, and more witnesses will say that it was done by a third person. The officers are coming to the belief that Mrs. Johnson was not at the boarding-house when the crime was committed, and that her story was concected out of Arrested at the Prison Door. About two years ago Matthew Tobin was arrested on the charge of committing burglary in the Eilwood postoffice. He gave bond before the United States commissioner and was released pending grand jury action. Shortly after his release he was arrested at Anderson on the charge of highway robbery, and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. On account of good behavior, his term of sentence expired yesterday. He was met at the prison doors by Deputy United States Marshal Stein, who arrived here with him at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was placed in jail to await the action of the United States grand jury. Tobin is now twenty-two years old. The crime for which he will probably be indicted caused considerable excitement at the time. There were two others arrested on the same charge, one of whom was a man named Adams, who escaped from the officers by pulling his arms through the sleeves of his coat and leaving nothing but the garment for them to hold. The other, Robert Shrinn, was convicted, but owing to his sickly condition a light sentence of three months in the Marion county jail was imposed.

Litigation About a Race. In the 2:50 pacing race at the State fair a dispute was raised that has culminated in a suit before Justice Feibleman. Irma C., driven by F. M. Cory, of Shelbyville, won first heat, and Angler, driven by Joe Ray; won second. In the third heat Daniel Drinkworth, driven by Lena Willetts, claimed that Cory collided with him, causing a runaway, the breaking of his sulky and the injury of his mare. The judges sustained the claim, fined Cory $100, and impounded his mare until the fine was paid. They also gave the first place to Angler and Lena Willetts second. Mr. Morgan, the owner of Lena Willetts, not satisfied with the action of the judges, has brought suit before the 'Squire for damages to his mare and sulky.

Granted Their Petition.

Judge Taylor yesterday granted the petition of Mesers. Thompson and Duden, officers of the Supreme Lodge, United Order of Honor, to examine the books of the order now in the possession of Receiver Bradley. The object of the officers in going over the books is to refute the charge made by the receiver that there was a shortage of $9,000 in their accounts. The court directed that the examination should be made in the receiver's office, under his supervision, and that no alterations should be made on the books. A report of the investigation will be submitted to the Judge Monday.

A Disappointed Plaintiff. Mrs. Kate Massone, who sued Martin Breen for damages, alleging that he caused her to fall over a chair and sustain some injuries, was disappointed when the jury that heard the case returned a verdict yesterday. Instead of the $5,000 she was given $1, and required to pay all the costs in the case, amounting to about $100. Damage suits have become so common that they are falling into disrepute with intelligent juries. John Hart Acquitted. John Hart, the Pennsylvania gas-fitter. charged with horse stealing, has been acquitted by a jury in the Criminal Court. The accused did not deny driving the horse to Noblesville, but he claimed that he was put into the buggy while crazed with drink.

It Has Found a Judge. The Labor Signal case, in which the court is asked to appoint a receiver for the paper, has found its way to Room 3, and will come up before Judge Howland by agreement. The date of hearing has not yet been fixed.

William Dee Assaulted. William Dee, a fireman at the Indianapolis Gas-light and Coke Company, on South Pennsylvania street, was assaulted, at 6 o'clock last night, in the company's office, and badly cut with a knife in the ear, the blade penetrating fully two inches, and severing the temporal artery. Dee says Michael White, an employe of the company, did it, but does not know why he thus assaulted him. He claims that he and White had been friends. Dee was taken to the police station, where Dr. Hodges attended him. From the station he was removed to the City Hospital. White was arrested, but he denies making the assault. He claims that Dec used the kuife on himself.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. Another Item for Laboring Men to Think

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: As a laboring man who is trying to pay for a little home on the building association plan, I have been thinking: If I can pay my weekly dues for a little over five years to come the home will be mine, but supposing the Demoeratic intention of free trade be put in practical operation. I must inevitably suffer a very material reduction in wages, if not loss of employment. What would be the result! Simply that I would be unable to keep up my dues, and the consequence would be the loss of my home. How many thousand men in the United States are in a similar condition. LABORER SHELBYVILLE, Oct. 3.

The Democratic Commune.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: No unprejudiced man, it seems to the writer. can study this political campaign and read the editorials in at least a large number of Democratic papers, without surprise or forebodings of fear at the remarkable language that is always present, for the purpose of arousing the prejudices of the wort elements of society against every business man, every manufacturer, every professional man, falsely, in the name of labor. They are told, and misleading figures and deceptive arguments used to prove, that the laborers are robbed by a system of theft carried on by everyboo'y with whom the toilers have to deal, and every dollar's worth any man possesses has been atolen from them, and by the aid of the protective tariff. In the estimation of these papers and a certain class of politicians, the only evidence needed to prove that a man is a thief and a robber is that he has employed labor, or has transacted business with laboring men, and a picture of his dwelling is simpleted in these papers as an indiadwelling is circulated in these papers as an indisputable evidence of his guilt. Saloon-keepers are used in this disreputable work, by, first, favoring their traffic in every way, being friendly to it, asking for it free sway, to do as the men enit like, and in the saloon-keepers use these same communistic arguments to the motley crowds of leafers and criminals that frequent their bars, disgracing the name of honest toil by calling them laborers. That this mob element has already taken up the cry of the commune any person can verify to his entire satisfaction by frequenting their haunts and conversing with them. They read these untruthful attacks upon society, as Spies, Fielden and Linng did the communistic papers, and discuss them as did the Chicago Anarchist, growing bolder and bolder, until their mutterings burst forth in murder.

All this is called argument and material for a campaign. If the position taken by the Democratic party is the true one the sooner this government is destroyed the better, for it is but a means by which the few rob the many; and if it fully arouses the elements it now is so dili-gently working on with these misrepresenta-tions, falsehoods, slanders and perjury, it is only a question of time till the government will be overthrown and the history of France rewritten in American blood. on moral questions has come most largely from Republican legislators. 4. The Republican party has always been the champion of protection-protection to the citizen, protection to the negro, protection to the ballot-box, protection to the wage-earner, protection to the wage-payer, and now, right in line with past professions and performances, it declares protection to the home.

7. The Republican party deals with conditions of the temperance work, not theories. The ideal is not always instantly attainable; it is better that the majority of the great struggling, groaning mass should gain one inch of altitude than that a few should by separating themselves into an "holier-than-thou" party attain supernal beights.

8. The Republican party by reason of its powerful position in this country is able to consistently promise the redemption of its pledges, while the so-called Prohibition party, even if the sincerity of its pledges be admitted, cannot, for many years at least, fulfill any one of them.

9. The best types of American manhood are represented in the persons of Benjamin Harrison

Roscoe Conkling's Widow. Utica Letter to Chicago Times.

Mrs. Conkling is at home, but since the death of her husband she rarely leaves her home except to visit her daughter in New York. The people of Utica respect her grief, and there is no intrusion upon her chosen solitude. Her brother, Mr. John Seymour, who occupies the old Horatio Seymour mansion, dines with her nearly every day. Aside from this and the calls of a few relatives and the visits of her physician, Mrs. Conkling is "not at home" to other people. I am told that she retains all her queenliness, and that her submission and sweetness of temper are the most prominent traits of her character.

A very estimable citizen in speaking of her said: "She is all that Utica has left. We had her brother, Horatio Seymour, and we have had Kernan, and we have had Judge Hunt, of the Supreme Bench, and we have had Roscoe Conkling. Kernan has retired to private life. The others are dead. But up there, in that house, lives the queenliest woman on this earth. Her name is Mrs. Conkling."

Bishop Whipple and the Indians. Kansas City Star.

It is highly complimentary to Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, who has worked so long among the Indians, that he should be known among them as "The Straight Tongue" and "The Father Who Don't Lie." The Indians have had so much experience with white men who do lie that they desire to emphasize this exception.

THE LOVING CUP

Old customs are recalled by the demand for silver loving cups. Twisted handles, antique in design, add to their beauty. The "loving cup" was the origin of pledging in drinking, or drinking one's health, as we call it. It is a beautiful fashion as to the cup, and the revival of the "loving cup" as gifts of friendship is a beautiful fashion. We have all sorts of cups, and a vast variety of other things "too numerous to mention." Come see for yourself.

"I find a design for a parlor window which seems to meet these requirements. The lace drapery is hung in festoon at one side. On the other side the colored fabric is employed, with festoon effect at the top, and a scarf end, fringed. This combines the color desired, with the use of the lace, harmoniously and artistically. Of course much depends upon the judicions selection of colors, and much more upon the successful arrangement of the draping. But in this skill and ingenuity find their work."

So writes an authority upon drawing-room drapery. We simply add that in this, as in all other household decoration, you will find the requisite "skill and ingenuity" at
